

Introduction

The Network for Civil Society Organisations in Environment and Natural Resources sector (referred to as the ENR-CSO Network) is a loose coalition of civil society organizations engaged in policy lobbying and advocacy towards good governance and better service delivery in the environment and natural resources sector in Uganda. It is a membership network composed of mainly local NGOs and CBOs with a few International NGOs.

The network provides a platform for civil society to coordinate and jointly engage in policy lobbying and advocacy with a collective voice as well as providing opportunities for capacity building through learning and information sharing so as to ensure evidence based advocacy towards good governance of the country's natural resource base.

The ENR-CSO Secretariat is hosted by Environment Alert (EA) at its Head Offices in Kabalagala, Kampala and the overall governance structure is composed of the General Assembly, the Secretariat and 5 Thematic Working Groups consisting of wetlands, forestry, environment, weather, and climate and, good governance themes; where each theme is coordinated by a Thematic Lead institution.

The ENR-CSO Network draws its members from;

- a) Grassroots, district and national level civil society organizations engaged in the development and management of natural resources in Uganda.
- b) International Civil Society Organizations engaged in the development and management of natural resources in Uganda.
- c) National and International Civil Society Networks, Coalitions and Trust funds

Vision, Mission and Goal

Vision: The Vision of ENR-CSO Network is “Uganda’s natural environment providing goods and services, on sustainable basis, for national socio-economic development.”

Mission: The Mission of ENR-CSO Networks is to “Mobilize CSOs to effectively promote good governance, effective management and sustainable utilization of Uganda’s natural resources”.

Goal: The Goal of ENR-CSO is “Ensuring that ENR-CSO network members effectively contribute to achieving good governance for effective service delivery in the ENR sector.”
